Helpful Tips:

Please note, the following suggestions are for your convenience only. We recommend conducting your own research on how to care for chickens prior to keeping any.*

Food: Chickens have the same basic food needs of nutrients, vitamins and minerals that people do. A good way to provide those nutrients is to purchase chicken feed at your local feed or farm store

Water: Like people, chickens enjoy fresh water. It is recommended that you change their water every day. Make sure that their water is not frozen during the winter months.

Health: To help keep your chickens happy and healthy, regularly clean their food and water containers. Keeping their coop and run clean will not only help keep your chickens healthy, it is City code.
